6. MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION & ANALYSIS: MARKET ENVIRONMENT 2024-25:

6.1. GLOBAL MACRO:

- 6.1.1. Last year was a balancing act for global central banks as they tried to keep inflation in check while supporting economic growth. Some took a softer approach and cut rates, while others held firm on their tight policies. The Federal Reserve and European Central Bank cautiously lowered rates to counter slowing growth, whereas the Bank of Japan finally moved away from its ultra-loose stance, inching rates upward.
- 6.1.2. Inflation has eased in many parts of the world, but it's still keeping policymakers on their toes. Barring a few exceptions, such as Turkey, Russia and Argentina, emerging market inflation is in line with long term trends, and rather well behaved. That said, climate change and rising volatility in global food supply and prices are a perennial risk for EM economies. Global growth in 2024 landed at a modest 3.3%, with advanced economies slowing down while emerging markets showed impressive resilience. Governments worldwide are now walking the tightrope—trying to foster economic growth without letting already high debt levels spiral out of control.

- 6.1.3. Now, as we enter FY2025, global trade tensions are heating up with the unwinding of “Trump Trades”. The U.S. has imposed arbitrary tariffs on all its trading partners, stirring uncertainty in supply chains and shaking up business confidence. In the near term, markets are laser-focused on growth concerns, and further retaliatory measures from other nations against U.S. exports could be on the horizon. If these tensions persist, inflation risks and even stagflation could become real headaches for developed-market central banks, severely limiting their policy options. Altogether, the shifting global trade landscape and tariff conflicts are expected to put a serious dent in global economic growth.

6.2. INDIAN MACRO:

- 6.2.1. In India, the economy showed signs of a moderate slowdown with real GDP expected for FY25 to be at 6.5%. The growth was dragged down by slowdown in spending around the general elections and relatively higher than typical weather anomalies in 2024 which derailed construction activity. Inflation softened while exports growth improved leading to a rise in India's share in world exports in 2024.
- 6.2.2. India's Real GDP growth rose to 6.2% y-o-y in Q3 FY25, a recovery from 5.6% in Q2. However, the details were mixed. The uptick was led by consumption spending and a contraction in imports, while fixed investment growth slowed further. Consumption most likely received a boost from festive demand and improved rural activity. Investment has been lacklustre likely because lift-up in government spending started only from December. Private capex momentum has also moderated in recent months.

- 6.2.3. As we move into FY 2026, easing credit supply to households, a likely improved agri income, some positive effects from personal income tax reduction, resumption of real estate and infra construction activity translating into better construction jobs, and contained inflationary pressures are expected to lead to a modest revival in consumption demand. One common argument for a better Indian economic growth in FY26 is placed around monetary easing (both rates, liquidity and regulatory) and that should help in revival of credit led growth. However, downside risks from external events could emerge that may keep growth outlook below potential, warranting policy support.
- 6.2.4. India's business environment in FY 2025 shows strong supply-side resilience with rising order inflows, improving coal output, cement production, and steel demand, but weak movement of goods signals subdued consumption. Despite recovering capital goods production and imports, business sentiment has moderated, and global tariff uncertainties threaten future investment cycles.
- 6.2.5. Central government expenditure declined 18% y-o-y in Feb – thereby turning out to be one more indicator to point at weakness in economic activity. FY25 fiscal deficit could be 4.7% of GDP vs. RE of 4.8% of GDP and BE of 4.9%, largely attributed to low realization in the capex target.

Source: RBI, CMIE Economic Outlook, SBIFM Research

- 6.2.6. While the government capex thrust would have plateaued, the order pipeline for corporates still appears to be healthy. The first half of FY26 will likely reflect a base effect due to lower government spending. As a result, growth will likely play a more prominent role in shaping monetary policy decisions for 2025. As a base case one should expect monetary conditions (rates, liquidity and regulations) to get growth supportive in FY26. Global growth backdrop also warrants policy support to growth. Nominal growth in FY26 is expected to moderate to 8-9% from 9-10% in FY25.

Source: CMIE Economic Outlook, SBIFM Research

SBI FUNDS INTERNATIONAL (IFSC) LIMITED

- 6.2.7. India's retail inflation outlook looks sanguine. Two years of vegetable price rise would provide a strong favourable base. And it isn't like consumer demand is overheating, thus the core would stay under control (a modest rise built in estimates). No material rise in transportation cost is also a big help. Thus, India's retail inflation outlook creates an enabling environment to take growth supportive measures. We expect CPI to average under 4% in FY26.
- 6.2.8. On external account front, a dichotomy has emerged. The current account deficit remains modest (aided by healthy services exports, contained crude priced and a healthy flow of remittances), but capital inflows have fallen considerably. One of the most adverse developments for India is sharp fall in net FDI inflow and hence a deterioration of basic balance.
- 6.2.9. Overall, we believe rural consumption and higher government spending will lift GDP growth slightly over the next two quarters. In the last two years, fiscal policy was focused on consolidation, and monetary policy was centred on inflation and financial stability, while growth has taken a backseat. Both monetary and fiscal policy has increased their focus on growth.
- 6.2.10. RBI has initiated rate cut cycle, taking measures to support liquidity, easing regulatory restrictions on credit. On the fiscal side, while there is a continued fiscal consolidation, a better realization of spending targets vs. FY25 could be growth accretive. Between consumption and investment, investment could be a likely out-performer in FY26.

6.3. OUTLOOK:

6.3.1. EQUITY:

The economic activity momentum was sluggish in H2FY25 with public sector capex not seeing the desired pick up after the general election in 1HFY25. Business sentiment has significantly moderated. Corporate capex is expected to grow at a slower pace in FY26, with government infrastructure projects plateauing and global growth risks from tariffs. Trade policy uncertainty may further weigh on trade and global growth. Key indicators like bank credit growth, GST collection, energy demand, and freight activity-- all show moderate growth. Though there are some sector-specific positives such as strong service sector exports and steel sector performance. Positive factors like better agricultural income, personal income tax cut, and resumption in construction activities should support modest consumption revival, with credit growth being the strongest driver if it picks up. In conclusion, a strong demand boost to push India's growth above 7% is currently lacking, which could impact earnings expectations.

Indian equities exhibited some stability in the month of March after the sharp sell-off of the past few months. The Nifty and the Sensex ended the month with gains of 6.3% and 5.8% respectively even as risks around the much-feared Trump tariff announcements on 2nd April loomed large. The actual tariff announcements were significantly worse than feared. While the increase in tariffs was even sharper for some competing exporting countries in Asia and hence on a relative basis, tariffs on India did not look particularly bad, the absolute number at 27% for most Indian sectors (excluding primarily Pharma and IT services, and Auto which was separately covered in an earlier announcement), was quite steep. There is expectation that some of these tariffs could settle lower with bilateral negotiations between India and the US.

The immediate market reaction was a significant drop in US yields as well the US dollar. This could have helped cushion the initial reaction on global markets relative to the US markets. Emerging market (EM) equities and commodities, the two asset classes that have significantly underperformed the US for nearly one and a half decades, have been amongst the better performing asset classes so far in 2025 even amidst tariff risks. That said, the second order risks from the US tariff action are still significant. For one, US consumer sentiment could plummet and with the inflationary impact of tariffs, it could put the US economy into a recession and potentially stagflation, in turn adversely impacting global economy and financial markets. Global trade coming off is not good news either. In addition, prolonged uncertainty and slower global trade could dent corporate confidence and potentially derail corporate capital expenditure plans.

In this context, Indian equities will likely stay volatile in the foreseeable future. That said, on our asset allocation frameworks, two things have changed over the past few months. First, the price correction on equity indexes such as the Nifty and the Sensex, along with a sharp decline in Indian 10-year bond yields has brought headline index valuations closer to historical averages on our preferred gauge of earnings yield to bond yields spread. Second, the correction has also erased the exuberant readings on our proprietary equity sentiment measure and brought it back to neutral levels. To be sure it is not at a pessimistic extreme yet, nor are valuations outright cheap, but the current neutral readings on both measures and likely continued market turbulence may provide much saner entry levels for long term investors versus six months ago.

SBI FUNDS INTERNATIONAL (IFSC) LIMITED

However, in view of heightened macro uncertainties and potential growth slowdown, we continue to advocate equity exposure through quality businesses, i.e. companies with strong business models, long-term earnings growth visibility, and sustainable cashflows.

6.3.2. FIXED INCOME:

Over the last half of the fiscal, financial markets globally witnessed significant volatility and repricing with the first half witnessing optimism surrounding US exceptionalism and subsequent unwinding of the same over the last few months. RBI policy stance significantly shifted over the period as policy rates and stance evolved in line with the domestic growth- inflation matrix.

The relevance of forceful liquidity actions that supplement monetary policy action was reinforced over the last quarter in the domestic bond markets. Seasonality in supply pressure and liquidity flows were broadly neutralized as the combination of frictional and durable liquidity infusion measures led to a material softening in market yields as well as some tightening in spreads.

The initial impact of the RBI rate cut in February was muted as the central bank provided no guidance on liquidity actions. Subsequently the RBI scaled up the quantum of liquidity infusion through both durable and frictional measures including daily repo auctions. The impact of liquidity actions, with a cumulative durable liquidity injection of Rs 8.9 trillion (Including the additional Rs 800 bn OMO for April and the longer VRRR) since Dec 24 has clearly led to better transmission and would continue to be relevant going forward.

The RBI is widely expected to ease policy rates further in the upcoming review in April. With a policy rate setting at 6% and directional view on positive durable liquidity in the system, the recent transmission into market interest rates is expected to be sustained. At the same time, given that the neutral stance was linked to external uncertainties, there may possibly be no change in the stance as possibly being anticipated. Notwithstanding the same, incremental RBI actions have clearly been toward aligning system rates lower in line with the prevailing monetary policy signalling rate. Even as the terminal rate debates could keep emerging with varying estimates of additional easing, we anticipate that the cumulative easing will remain shallow. At the same time, the possible growth impact can and would most likely be managed through surplus overall liquidity. This would effectively result in periods where the effective overnight rate settings stay a bit below the Policy repo rate.

Report on the audit of Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying standalone financial statements of SBI Funds International (IFSC) Limited (the "Company"), which comprise the Balance Sheet as at March 31st, 2025, the Statement of Profit and Loss, including Other Comprehensive Income, the Cash Flow Statement and the Statement of Changes in Equity for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information (hereinafter referred to as "the financial statements").

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid financial statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013, as amended (the "Act"), in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) prescribed under section 133 of the Act and other accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Company as at March 31, 2025, its loss including other comprehensive income, its cash flows and the changes in equity for the year ended on that date.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit of the standalone financial statements in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs), as specified under section 143(10) of the Act. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the 'Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements' section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the 'Code of Ethics' issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India together with the independence requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the standalone financial statements.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the standalone financial statements for the financial year ended March 31, 2025. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the standalone financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Information other than the Standalone Financial statements and Auditor's report thereon

The Company's Management and Board of Directors are responsible for the preparation of other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Board's report including Annexures to Board's report, but does not include the standalone financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The Company's Annual Report is expected to be made available to us after the date of this Audit Report.

Our opinion on the standalone financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the standalone financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above when it becomes available and, in doing so, consider whether such other information is materially inconsistent with the standalone financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of the other information, we are required to report the fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

SBI FUNDS INTERNATIONAL (IFSC) LIMITED

Management's and Board of Directors' Responsibility for the Financial Statements

The Company's Management and Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance including other comprehensive income, cash flows and changes in equity of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) specified under section 133 of the Act read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, as amended. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management and Board of Directors are responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the standalone financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these standalone financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Companies Act, 2013, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management and Board of Directors.
4. Conclude on the appropriateness of management and Board of Directors use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

SBI FUNDS INTERNATIONAL (IFSC) LIMITED

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the standalone financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, make it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the standalone financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the standalone financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

2. Management and Board of Directors are responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting ('the Guidance Note') issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ('the ICAI'). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required by The Companies Act, 2013 ('the Act').

Auditor's Responsibility

3. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note and the Standards on Auditing ('the Standards'), issued by the ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Act, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both issued by the ICAI. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.
4. Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

7. In our opinion, Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31st, 2025, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note issued by the ICAI.

The Company has taken over the existing fund management business of SBIFML (IFSC Branch) with effect from 12th August 2024.

1.1. Basis of Preparation and Presentation :

a) Statement of Compliance

The financial statements of SBI Funds International (IFSC) Limited have been prepared and presented on going concern basis and in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) as per the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 notified under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013, ('the Act') and other relevant provisions of the Act, as amended from time to time.

b) Presentation of Financial Statements

The first Financial Year of the Company is for the period 7th February 2024 to 31st March 2025. The Company presents its balance sheet in order of liquidity. An analysis regarding recovery or settlement within 12 months after the reporting date and more than 12 months after the reporting date is presented in the Notes to Accounts.

c) Functional and Presentation Currency

US Dollar (USD) is the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Company operates and hence, its functional as well as presentation currency. Additionally, the financial statements are also presented in Indian Rupees (INR) for compliance with income-tax and other statutory laws.

d) Rounding off

All amounts have been rounded-off up to two decimal places, unless otherwise specified.

e) Basis of Measurement

The Financial Statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis except for the following:

- Financial instruments that are measured at fair value (refer accounting policy regarding financial instruments)
- Assets held for sale – measured at lower of carrying amount or fair value less cost to sell
- Defined benefit plans – plan assets measured at fair value

Accounting policies have been consistently applied except where a newly issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use.

f) Measurement of Fair Values

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- In the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability

The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the Company.

The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use. The Company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximising the use of relevant observable inputs and minimising the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorised within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date.
- Level 2 inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included within Level 1, that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability. This category includes all instruments for which the valuation technique includes inputs that are not observable, and the unobservable inputs have a significant effect on the instrument's valuation.

g) Use of judgements, estimates and assumptions

The preparation of these financial statements in conformity with the recognition and measurement principles of Ind-AS requires the management to make estimates, judgements and assumptions. These estimates, judgements and assumptions affect application of accounting policies and the reported amount of assets, liabilities, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of financial statements and the reported amount of income and expenses for the periods presented.

In particular, information about significant areas of estimation uncertainty and critical judgments in applying accounting policies that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognized in the financial statements are as below:

- Financial instruments – Fair values, risk management and impairment of financial assets.
- Estimates of useful lives and residual value of property, plant and equipment, and other intangible assets.
- Obligation relating to employee benefits related to actuarial assumptions
- Recognition and measurement of provisions and contingencies; key assumptions related to the likelihood and magnitude of an outflow of resources, if any
- Recognition of deferred tax assets/liabilities.
- Determination of lease term and discount rate for lease liabilities.
- Impairment test of non-financial assets - Key assumptions underlying recoverable amounts including the recoverability of expenditure on intangible assets.

The management believes that these estimates are prudent and reasonable and are based upon the management's best knowledge of current events and actions as on the reporting date. Actual results could differ from these estimates and differences between actual results and estimates are recognised in the periods in which the results/actions are known or materialised. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised prospectively.

1.2. Foreign Currency Transactions and Balances

1.2.1. Reporting foreign currency transactions in the functional currency:

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Foreign currency denominated monetary assets and liabilities are remeasured into the functional currency at the exchange rate prevailing on the balance sheet date. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at year end exchange rates are recognised in Statement of Profit or Loss. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions. Non-monetary items that are measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated into functional currency at the exchange rate when fair value is determined. The foreign exchange gain or loss arising on translation of non-monetary items measured at fair value is recognised in line with the recognition of the gain or loss on the change in fair value of the item.

1.2.2. Translation to Group Presentation Currency, INR – Foreign Currency Translation Reserve

For the purposes of preparation of financial statements in INR, the assets and liabilities for each balance sheet presented (i.e., including comparatives) shall be translated at the closing rate at the date of that balance sheet; income and expenses for each Statement of Profit and Loss presented (i.e., including comparatives) shall be translated at exchange rates at the dates of the transactions; and all resulting exchange differences shall be recognised in other comprehensive income under Foreign Currency Translation Reserve (FCTR).

1.3. Property, Plant and Equipment1.3.1. Recognition and measurement

The cost of an item of property, plant and equipment shall be recognised as an asset if, and only if it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably.

All items of property, plant and equipment are stated at historical cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. Historical cost includes expenses directly attributable to the acquisition of an asset. Advances paid towards the acquisition of property and equipment and the cost of property and equipment not ready for use before the reporting date are disclosed separately in the property and equipment schedule.

1.3.2. Subsequent Expenditure

Subsequent expenditure is capitalised only when it increases the future economic benefits embodied in the specific asset to which it relates. All other expenditure is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss as incurred.

1.3.3. Depreciation

Depreciation on property, plant and equipment is recognised using Straight Line Method (SLM) to expense the cost less residual values over estimated useful lives as prescribed under Schedule II of Companies Act, 2013. Estimated useful lives of property, plant and equipment as stipulated under Schedule II of Companies Act, 2013 and adopted by management for various block of assets is as under:

Assets	Useful life (in years)
Computers – Servers and networks	6
Computers – End user devices, such as, desktops, laptops, etc.	3
Furniture and fixtures	10
Office Equipment (including Electrical Installation & Building Management systems)	5
Glow Sign Board	2
Vehicles	8

All fixed assets individually costing less than ₹5,000 are fully depreciated in the year of purchase/acquisition.

Estimated useful lives and residual values are reviewed at the end of each financial year and changes, if any, are accounted prospectively.

1.3.4. Derecognition

Carrying amount (net of accumulated depreciation) of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon its disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gains or losses arising on such disposal is determined based on difference between net proceeds and carrying amount and such gains or losses are recognised in Statement of Profit and Loss.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31ST MARCH 20251.3.5. Capital Work in Progress

Projects under which property plant and equipment are not ready for their intended use are carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses, comprising direct cost, inclusive of taxes, duties, freight, and other incidental expenses.

1.4. Intangible Assets1.4.1. Recognition and measurement

Intangible assets are measured at cost and recognised if it is probable that the expected future economic benefits that are attributable to the asset will flow to the entity and the cost of the asset can be measured reliably. Intangible assets are initially measured at cost and subsequently measured at cost less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment loss, if any. Initial cost of software implementation is capitalised and any subsequent maintenance cost or enhancement cost are expensed out to Statement of Profit and Loss unless it meets recognition criteria.

Intangible assets with finite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Amortisation expense is recognised on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives in the Statement of Profit and Loss. The estimated useful life and amortisation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis.

1.4.2. Useful lives of Intangible Assets

Estimated useful lives of the intangible assets adopted by management are as follows:

Description of assets	Useful lives (In years)	Method of depreciation/ amortization
Computer software	3 - 6 years	SLM

Copyright licenses	5 years	SLM

1.4.3. De-recognition of Property, Plant and Equipment and Intangible Assets

A financial asset is subsequently measured at amortised cost if it is held within a business model whose objective is to hold the asset in order to collect contractual cash flows and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding using effective interest rate.

A financial asset which is not classified in any of the above categories are subsequently fair valued through profit or loss.

1.5.3. Derecognition of Financial Assets

The Company derecognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another party.

1.5.4. Impairment of Financial Assets

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Company uses 'Expected Credit Loss' (ECL) model, for evaluating impairment of financial assets other than those measured at fair value through profit and loss (FVTPL).

Expected credit losses are measured through a loss allowance at an amount equal to:

- The 12-months expected credit losses (expected credit losses that result from those default events on the financial instrument that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date); or
- Full lifetime expected credit losses (expected credit losses that result from all possible default events over the life of the financial instrument)

For trade receivables, the Company applies 'simplified approach' which requires expected lifetime losses to be recognised from initial recognition of the receivables. The Company uses historical default rates to determine impairment loss on the portfolio of trade receivables. At every reporting date, these historical default rates are reviewed and changes in the forward-looking estimates are analysed.

For other assets, the Company uses 12-month ECL to provide for impairment loss where there is no significant increase in credit risk. If there is significant increase in credit risk full lifetime ECL is used.

1.5.5. Subsequent Measurement of Financial Liabilities

Financial liabilities are subsequently carried at amortized cost. For trade and other payables maturing within one year from the Balance Sheet date, the carrying amounts approximate fair value due to the short maturity of these instruments.

1.5.6. Derecognition of Financial Liabilities

The Company derecognizes financial liabilities when its obligations are discharged, cancelled or have expired.

1.5.7. Equity instruments:

All equity investments in scope of Ind-AS 109 are measured at fair value. Equity instruments which are held for trading are classified as at FVTPL. For all other equity instruments, the Company decides to classify the same either as at FVTOCI or FVTPL. The Company makes such election on an instrument-by instrument basis. The classification is made on initial recognition and is irrevocable. If the Company decides to classify an equity instrument as at FVTOCI, then all fair value changes on the instrument, excluding dividends, are recognized in the OCI. There is no recycling of the amounts from OCI to Statement of Profit and Loss, even on sale of investment. However, the Company may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity.

Equity instruments included within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

1.5.8. Offsetting of Financial Instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the Balance Sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31ST MARCH 20251.6. Impairment of non-financial assets

The carrying amounts of non-financial assets are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date if there is any indication of impairment based on internal/external factors. An asset is treated impaired when the carrying cost of an asset or cash-generating unit's (CGU) exceeds its recoverable value.

The recoverable amount is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets. The recoverable amount is the greater of the asset's or CGU's fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. In determining fair value less costs of disposal, recent market transactions are considered.

If no such transactions can be identified, an appropriate valuation model is used. After impairment, depreciation is provided on the revised carrying amount of the asset over its remaining useful life. An impairment loss, if any, is charged to Statement of Profit and Loss Account in the year in which an asset is identified as impaired. A previously recognised impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the assumptions used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognised. The reversal is limited so that the carrying amount of the asset does not exceed its recoverable amount, nor exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation, had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognised in the statement of profit or loss unless the asset is carried at a revalued amount, in which case, the reversal is treated as a revaluation increase.

1.7. LeasesThe Company as a lessee:

The Company's lease asset classes primarily consist of leases for office on lease and other assets. The Company assesses whether a contract contains a lease, at inception of a contract. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, the Company assesses whether: (i) The contract involves the use of an identified asset; (ii) the Company has substantially all of the economic benefits from use of the asset through the period of the lease and; (iii) the Company has the right to direct the use of the asset. At the date of commencement of the lease, the Company recognizes a right-of-use asset ("ROU") and a corresponding lease liability for all lease arrangements in which it is a lessee, except for leases with a term of twelve months or less (short-term leases) and low value leases. For these short-term and low value leases, the Company recognizes the lease payments as an operating expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease.

Certain lease arrangements include the options to extend or terminate the lease before the end of the lease term. ROU assets and lease liabilities includes these options when it is reasonably certain that they will be exercised. The right-of-use assets are initially recognized at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or prior to the commencement date of the lease plus any initial direct costs less any lease incentives. They are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. Right-of-use assets are depreciated from the commencement date on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the lease term and useful life of the underlying asset. Right of use assets are evaluated for recoverability whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. For the purpose of impairment testing, the recoverable amount (i.e. the higher of the fair value less cost to sell and the value-in-use) is determined on an individual asset basis unless the asset does not generate cash flows that are largely independent of those from other assets.

The lease liability is initially measured at amortized cost at the present value of the future lease payments. The lease payments are discounted using the incremental borrowing rate. After the commencement date, the amount of lease liabilities is increased to reflect the accretion of interest and reduced for the lease payments made.

Lease liabilities are remeasured with a corresponding adjustment to the related right of use asset if the Company changes its assessment if whether it will exercise an extension or a termination option. Lease liability and ROU asset have been separately presented in the Balance Sheet and lease payments have been classified as financing cash flows.

1.8. Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and Cash Equivalents include cash in hand, bank balances, call deposits and other short-term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value.

1.9. Provisions, Contingent Liability and Contingent Asset

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past events, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. The expenses relating to a provision is presented in the Statement of Profit and Loss net of any reimbursement.

Provisions are measured at the present value of management's best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the end of reporting period. The discount rate used to determine the present value is pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risk specified to the liability. The increase in provision due to passage of time is recognised as finance cost.

When some or all of the economic benefits required to settle a provision are expected to be recovered from a third party, a receivable is recognised as an asset if it is virtually certain that reimbursement will be received, and the amount of the receivable can be measured reliably.

A contingent liability is a possible obligation that arises from past events whose existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events beyond the control of the entity or a present obligation that is not recognised because it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation. A contingent liability also arises in extremely rare cases where there is a liability that cannot be recognised because it cannot be measured with sufficient reliability. The Company does not recognize a contingent liability but discloses its existence in the financial statements unless the possibility of an outflow of economic resources is considered remote.

Contingent Liabilities in respect of show cause notices are considered only when converted into demands. Loss contingencies arising from claims, litigation, assessment, fines, penalties, etc. are recorded when it is probable that a liability has been incurred and the amount can be reasonably estimated.

A contingent asset is not recognised but disclosed in the financial statements where an inflow of economic benefit is probable.

Capital commitments includes the amount of purchase order (net of advance) issued to counterparties for supplying/ development of assets and other commitment represent the amounts pertaining to investments which have been committed but not called for.

Provisions, contingent assets contingent liabilities and commitments are reviewed at each balance sheet date.

1.10. Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue from contracts with customers based on a five-step model as set out in Ind AS 115 to determine when to recognize revenue and at what amount. The following five-step approach is applied for recognition of revenue:

- Identification of contract(s) with customer
- Identification of separate performance obligation in the contract
- Determination of transaction price
- Allocation of transaction price to the separate performance obligation, and
- Recognition of revenue when (or as) each performance obligation is satisfied.

Revenue is recognised when amount of revenue can be reliably measured and it is probable that future economic benefits will flow to the entity, regardless of when payment is being made.

The Company receives management fees from funds in Gift City which is charged as a percentage of the Assets Under Management (AUM) in accordance with the Fund's Offer Documents and is recognised on accrual basis.

1.11. Other Income

- (a) Dividend income: Dividend income from investments is recognised when the right to receive payment has been established.
- (b) Interest income: Interest income on fixed deposits accrues on time basis determined by the amount outstanding and the rate applicable.

1.12. Scheme Expenses

Expenses relating to new fund offer are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss in the year in which they are incurred. Expenses incurred by funds in excess of Maximum Fund Expenses as defined in the Fund's Offer Documents are borne by the Fund Management Entity.

1.13. Employee benefits

(a) Defined Contribution Plan - Provident Fund

The Company has defined contribution plans for post-employment benefits in the form of Provident Fund. Under the Provident Fund plan, the Company contributes to Government administered Provident Fund on behalf of employees. The Company has no further obligation beyond making the contribution. The Company's contribution to Government Provident Fund is charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss.

(b) National Pension Scheme/system (NPS)

NPS is a defined contribution scheme. In case employee opts for NPS, the Company contributes a sum not exceeding 10% of basic salary plus dearness pay of the eligible employees' salary to the NPS. The Company recognizes such contribution as an expense as and when incurred.

(c) Defined Benefit Plan – Gratuity

Gratuity liability is a defined benefit obligation and is funded through a Gratuity Fund (established by SBI Funds Management Limited – Head Office) administered by trustees and managed by the Life Insurance Corporation of India. The Company accounts for liability for future gratuity benefits based on the actuarial valuation using Projected Unit Credit Method carried out as at the end of each financial year. Actuarial gains and losses are immediately recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Gratuity liabilities are determined by actuarial valuation, performed by an independent actuary, at each reporting date using the projected unit credit method. The Company recognizes the net obligation of a defined benefit plan in its balance sheet as an asset or liability, as the case may be. The discount rate is based on the government securities yield. Actuarial gains and losses arising from experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recorded in Other Comprehensive Income in the Statement of Comprehensive Income in the period in which they arise.

(d) Other Long-term employee benefit obligation

All eligible employees of the Company are eligible for the encashment of leave or leave with pay subject to certain rules, long term service awards and retirement gift on attaining the superannuation. The cost of providing other long-term benefits is determined based on independent actuarial valuation carried out as at the end of each financial year.

1.14. Income Taxes

Income tax expense comprises current tax expense and the net change in the deferred tax asset or liability during the year. Current and deferred taxes are recognised in Statement of Profit and Loss, except when they relate to items that are recognised in Other Comprehensive Income or directly in Equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognised in Other Comprehensive Income or directly in Equity, respectively.

(a) Current Tax

Current income tax for current and prior period is recognised at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted at the end of reporting period. Current income taxes are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss except for items those are recognised outside profit or loss, either in Other Comprehensive Income or in Equity, where the related tax for such items are recognised either in Other Comprehensive Income or in Equity respectively.

Current tax assets and current tax liabilities are offset only if there is a legally enforceable right to set off the recognized amounts and it is intended either to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

(b) Deferred Tax

Deferred tax is recognized using the balance sheet approach in respect of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the corresponding amounts used for taxation purposes. Deferred tax is also recognised in respect of carried forward tax losses and tax credits, if any.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period when the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which they can be used. The existence of unused tax losses is strong evidence that future taxable profit may not be available. Therefore, in case of losses, the Company recognises a deferred tax asset only to the extent that it has sufficient taxable temporary differences or there is other convincing evidence that sufficient taxable profit will be available against which such deferred tax asset can be realised. Deferred tax assets – unrecognised or recognised, are reviewed at each reporting date and are recognised/reduced to the extent that it is probable/no longer probable respectively that the related tax benefit will be realised.

1.15. Earnings Per Share

The basic earnings per share is computed by dividing profit after tax attributable to the equity shareholders by the weighted average number of Equity shares outstanding during the reporting period.

Diluted earnings per share reflects the potential dilution that could occur if securities or other contracts to issue equity shares were exercised or converted during the period/year. Diluted earnings per share is computed using the weighted average number of equity shares and dilutive potential equity shares outstanding at the year end.

Valuation inputs and relationship to fair value

The following table summarises the quantitative information about the significant unobservable inputs used in Level 3 fair value measurement:

Financial instruments	Significant unobservable inputs	Probability weights/ range	Sensitivity of inputs to fair value measurement
Alternative Investment Funds	Net Asset Value (NAV)	0.90X - 1.10X	A 10% increase in the NAV would increase the carrying value of investment by USD 38,147 (₹ 32.65 Lakhs). A 10% decrease in the NAV would decrease the carrying value of investment by USD 38,147 (₹ 32.65 Lakhs).

Fair Value Measurement using significant unobservable inputs (level 3)

The following table shows a reconciliation from the opening balances to the closing balances for Level 3 fair values for Investment in Alternative Investment Fund:

Closing balance	3,81,470	3,26,46,737

The hierarchy used is as follows:

Level 1 - Inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 - Inputs are other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).

Level 3 - Inputs are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs). Fair values are determined in whole or in part using a valuation model based on assumptions that are neither supported by prices from observable current market transactions in the same instrument nor are they based on available market data.

The valuation techniques used to determine the Fair Valuation of financial instruments are described below:

Financial instruments	Valuation techniques
Investment in Alternative Investment Fund	On the basis of latest NAV available

In order to assess Level 3 valuations, the management reviews the performance of the Alternative Investment Fund on a regular basis by tracking their latest available financial statements / financial information, valuation report of independent valuers, recent transaction results etc. which are considered in valuation process.

B. Financial Risk Management

The Company's primary focus is to foresee the unpredictability of financial markets and seek to minimise potential adverse effects on its financial performance. The purpose of risk management is to identify potential problems before they occur, so that risk-handling activities may be planned and invoked as needed to manage adverse impacts on achieving objectives. Set out below, is a comparison by class of the carrying amounts and fair value of the Company's financial instruments other than those with carrying amounts that are reasonable approximations of fair value.

The Company is exposed to different types of risks arising from Financial Instruments, which are as follows:

Exposure arising from	Risk
Financial liabilities	Liquidity Risk
Cash and cash equivalents, other Bank balances, trade receivables and financial assets measured at amortised cost	Credit Risk
Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities not denominated in USD	Market Risk - Foreign Exchange Risk
Investments in Alternative Investment Funds measured at FVTPL	Market Risk - Price Risk

1. Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is defined as the risk that the Company will encounter difficulty in meeting obligations associated with financial liabilities that are settled by delivering cash or another financial asset. Liquidity risk arises because of the possibility that the Company might be unable to meet its payment obligations when they fall due as a result of mismatches in the timing of the cash flows under both normal and stress circumstances. Such scenarios could occur when funding needed for illiquid asset positions is not available to the Company on acceptable terms. To limit this risk, management has adopted a policy of managing assets with due consideration to liquidity and monitoring future cash flows and liquidity on a regular basis. The Company has developed internal control processes for managing liquidity risk. The Company maintains sufficient bank balance and fixed deposits. The Company assesses the liquidity position under a variety of scenarios, giving due consideration to stress factors relating to both the market in general and specifically to the Company.

2. Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the Company if a customer or counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations and arises principally from the Company's trade and other receivables, cash and cash equivalents, and financial assets measured at amortised cost. Exposure to credit risk is mitigated through regular monitoring of collections and counterparty's credit worthiness and diversification in exposure. The Company has a prudent and conservative process for managing its credit risk arising in the course of its business activities. The Company has well defined investment policy restricting investments in various risk categories such as high/moderate etc.

Exposure to credit risk

The carrying amount of financial assets represents maximum amount of credit exposure. The maximum exposure to credit risk is as per the table below, it being total of carrying amount of cash and cash equivalent, other bank balances, trade and other receivables and financial assets measured at amortised cost.

Particulars	Amounts in USD	Amounts in INR
Maximum Exposure to Credit Risk	22,92,163	19,61,66,519

Further, Refer Note no. 4 for Trade Receivables ageing analysis schedule.

Expected Credit Loss (ECL) on Financial Assets

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Company uses 'Expected Credit Loss' (ECL) model, for evaluating impairment of financial assets other than those measured at fair value through profit and loss (FVTPL).

Expected credit losses are measured through a loss allowance at an amount equal to:

- The 12-months expected credit losses (expected credit losses that result from those default events on the financial instrument that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date); or
- Full lifetime expected credit losses (expected credit losses that result from all possible default events over the life of the financial instrument)

For trade receivables, the Company applies 'simplified approach' which requires expected lifetime losses to be recognised from initial recognition of the receivables. The Company uses historical default rates to determine impairment loss on the portfolio of trade receivables. The Company has determined based on historical experience and expectations that the ECL on its trade receivables is insignificant and was not recorded. At every reporting date, these historical default rates are reviewed and changes in the forward-looking estimates are analysed.

For other assets, the Company uses 12-month ECL to provide for impairment loss where there is no significant increase in credit risk. If there is significant increase in credit risk, full lifetime ECL is used.

The Company has 3 types of financial assets that are subject to the expected credit loss:

- Cash and Cash equivalent
- Trade Receivables
- Other Financial Assets

Trade and Other Receivables

Exposures to customers' outstanding at the end of each reporting period are reviewed by the Company to determine incurred and expected credit losses. Historical trends of collection from counterparties on timely basis reflects low level of credit risk. As the Company has a contractual right to such receivables as well as control over preponderant amount of such funds due from customers, the Company does not estimate any credit risk in relation to such receivables.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company holds cash and cash equivalents and other bank balances as per note 2 and 3. The credit worthiness of such banks and financial institutions is evaluated by the management on an ongoing basis and is considered to be high.

Other Financial Asset

The Company holds other financial assets as per Note no. 6. Based on the credit profile of counterparties, the Company does not expect any significant risk of default.

3. Market Risk:

Market risk is the risk of loss of future earnings, fair values or future cash flows related to financial instrument that may result from adverse changes in market rates and prices (such as foreign exchange rates, interest rates, other prices). The Company is exposed to market risk primarily related to Price risk, Currency risk, and Interest rate risk.

i. Price risk management:

Price risk is the risk that the value of the financial instrument will fluctuate as a result of changes in market prices and related market variables, whether caused by factors specific to an individual investment, its issuer or the market. The Company's exposure to price risk arises from investments in alternative investment funds which are classified as financial assets at Fair Value Through Profit and Loss. The following is the Company's exposure to price risk:

Particulars	Amounts in USD	Amounts in INR
Investment exposure to price risk	3,81,470	3,26,46,737

Price sensitivity analysis:

The table below sets out the effect on profit or loss and equity due to reasonable possible weakening / strengthening in prices/ market value by 5% :

Effect on Profit or Loss	Amounts in USD	Amounts in INR
5% decrease in prices	(19,074)	(16,32,339)
5% increase in prices	19,074	16,32,339

ii. Foreign currency risk management:

Foreign currency risk arises from future commercial transactions and recognised assets and liabilities denominated in a currency that is not the functional currency (USD) of the Company. The Company undertakes transactions denominated in foreign currencies (mainly INR), however, considering the size and nature of business operations, the currency risk is insignificant.

iii. Interest rate risk management:

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Company's investments are primarily in fixed rate interest instruments. Accordingly, the exposure to interest rate risk is insignificant.
